

Instructions for following the webcast during the Annual General Meeting of Nokian Tyres plc

Shareholders must register for the Annual General Meeting of Nokian Tyres plc between 12:00 p.m. on February 12, 2026 (EET) and 4:00 p.m. on March 18, 2026 (EET).

Shareholders registered for the General Meeting may also follow the meeting via a webcast. It is not possible for shareholders to ask questions, make counterproposals, address the meeting otherwise, or vote via the webcast, and following the webcast is not considered as participation in the General Meeting or exercise of shareholders' rights. Shareholders who intend to follow the meeting via webcast and wish to exercise their voting rights are referred to vote in advance or by way of proxy representation. A link to the webcast will be sent by Innovatics Oy no later than the day before the meeting on March 24, 2026, either by e-mail or SMS, depending on the contact details provided by the shareholder when registering for the Annual General Meeting.

The webcast of the AGM will be carried out by the Inderes Plc's virtual AGM Service via videosync-platform, which enables following of the General Meeting through live webcast. In addition to a stable internet connection, following the webcast requires a computer, smartphone or tablet with speakers or, alternatively, a headphone jack for audio playback. It is recommended to use one of the following browsers for monitoring: Chrome, Firefox, Edge, Safari or Opera. Following the webcast on the Videosync-platform does not require the use or download of any specific software.

For more information on the AGM service, additional instructions for proxies representing more than one shareholder, contact details of the service provider and instructions in case of possible disruptions can be found here <https://vagm.fi/support>.

A link to test the compatibility of your computer, smartphone or tablet with the network connection can be found here: <https://b2b.inderes.com/knowledge-base/compatibility-testing>. It is recommended that you read the detailed instructions before the meeting. It is also advisable to log in to the webcasting platform well in advance of the General Meeting.
